Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Software Testing position at your esteemed organization. As a recent graduate of Lovely Professional University with a degree in Computer Science and Engineering, I am excited to embark on my career in the field of software testing.

Throughout my academic journey, I have gained a solid foundation in various software testing methodologies and techniques, including functional testing, performance testing, and usability testing. I have also learned how to use various testing tools such as Selenium, JIRA, and TestLink to enhance my testing skills.

Although I have no professional experience in software testing, I have completed multiple academic projects that required me to apply my software testing knowledge and skills to deliver high-quality software products. Additionally, my academic coursework has taught me to think critically, analyze complex problems, and work collaboratively with team members.

As a recent graduate, I am eager to apply my knowledge and skills to make meaningful contributions to your organization. I am a quick learner, hardworking, and passionate about delivering quality software products.

Thank you for considering my application. I am excited about the opportunity to work with your team and contribute to your organization's success.

Sincerely,

Manjeet Sharma
